

Gigaset

Are user engagement, internet of things, social networks, smart home, gamification, lean startup and agile just buzzwords for you or do they track your attention and trigger your creativity?

For those being attracted and interested this might be your next challenge.

We as Gigaset Communication GmbH are Europe's market leader for DECT cordless voice telephones and a familiar size in the sector of communication technology. Furthermore we are driving forward our innovative product line Gigaset elements in the area of „Internet of Things“, connecting householders through a sensor- and cloud-based system and a smartphone app with their home.

We as Gigaset elements Team located in Düsseldorf are counting on your support as

Product Manager/ Product Owner Convenient Living (m/ w)

Your tasks:

- Driving all product management related aspects with regard to smart home and social network segment specific products
- On-market product evolutions
- Product lifecycle management
- Planning and steering of product development
- Drawing up marketing roadmaps
- Discovery and validation of segment problems
- Steering and oversight of activities of the development team
- Permanent work on the product backlog and the release plan

Gigaset

We are looking for you with:

- Master or bachelor degree in engineering and/ or business administrations – preferably both
- Several years of product management/ development experience
- Product owner experience
- Profound understanding of the smart home market and/ or social network products
- Understanding of the different roles and responsibilities in the Scrum development process
- Fluent knowledge of English language
- Strong analytical skills and comprehension of technical issues
- Open-mindedness towards new trends, ideas, best practices and benchmarks
- Excellent communication and negotiation skills
- Leadership ability
- Creative and efficient problem resolution

We are looking forward to your application. Feel free to formulate your application as it describes you best. Please make sure that your CV, your references, your salary expectations as well as your next possible starting date are included.

Please sent your application preferable via e-mail to: jobs@gigaset.com

Gigaset Communications GmbH
Hansaallee 299
40549 Düsseldorf

www.gigaset.com